Summer Weakness.

The advance of hot weather, sudden and without warning, has a relaxing effect, followed by an exhaustion of strength and a languor of body and mind. This enfeeblement of the system develops infirmities, otherwise inactive. Much loss of time and hindrance to all enterprise result. In such case, the system rallies under the influence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood, tones and strengthens the digestive organs, and infuses fresh life and energy.

"I have not been able to work steadily through the spring and summer till last year, when I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and did not lose a day."

"Your medicine is doing wonders for me; I haven't felt so well for six months."

"Hood's Sarsaparilla is putting new life right into me."

Elderly people take Hood's Sarsaparilla and exclaim: "It makes us young again."

Nervous people take Hood's Sarsaparilla and earnestly declare: "It gives us complete and permanent control of our nerves."

Said a father to a gentleman of his acquaintance: "Thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla, my child's health is restored. I never saw a child eat so before. You never saw such a medicine. It goes right to the spot."

All persons who feel the lassitude, languor, and debility peculiar to heated weather, find in Hood's Sarsaparilla a remedy which will give to them recovery from depression, an habitual feeling of life and interest, and a return of natural vivacity and cheerfulness of disposition.

Dyspeptics proclaim the immense relief received, and tell truly how it aids nature in digesting the food of an over-loaded and over worked stomach, whether proceeding from inability, incapacity, or indiscretion.

Many an appetite testifies to the sharpening effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I used to feel tired every morning, with a pain across my back and another in my chest; but since I am using Hood's Sarsaparilla I am relieved of these disorders and feel as fresh as ever." WM. J. HOFFON, Allen St., Somerville, Mass.

"I never found anything that hit my wants as Hood's Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. Thompson, Reg. Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Those who give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial for that 'out of sorts' feeling from which so many suffer, and is peculiar to summer, will be quite satisfied with the results."—Springfield, Mass., Republican.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cured Mrs. James H. Clough of a threatened Consumption. She recovered before one bottle was gone.

If You Have Failed

To receive benefit from other preparations of Sarsaparilla, as many have, try "Hood's." Its superior strength, its own peculiar combination, and the great care used in its preparation, make it the best medicine in the market for purifying the blood.

"It is with pleasure I add my testimony to the many who have already spoken of the immense good derived by them from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. About a year ago my wife, not naturally very strong, became so debilitated that she weighed but 110 pounds, had no appetite, and what she did eat distressed and troubled her a great deal. I purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, but she would not take it unless I did. I did not think I needed it, but to encourage her I consented. I had been subject to every few weeks, at times so violent I was obliged to give up work and keep my bed for the entire day. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, I have not lost an hour from this cause. My wife's health is better than it has been for years. She now weighs 130 lbs., has a good appetite, eats anything she wants to and feels like a new person. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved a great benefit to us, and we heartily recommend it to any one suffering from the causes, or to any who feel the need of a blood purifier." S. WOODBURY, Boston.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by Druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

In health, in strength, in appetite, do not despair until you have tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, which enters the circulation immediately, invigorates the nervous system, strengthens the digestive organs and imparts new life and energy.

"I had scrofulous sores that run all the time. I took six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and they are gone." MRS. LOUISA COBSON (76 years old), Bridgton, Me.

"For three years I was a severe sufferer from Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Almost all kinds of food distressed me, and at times caused me great suffering, particularly after retiring. Not unfrequently my distress was so great that I was kept awake a great part of the night. Finally I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately I Experienced Benefit.

My digestion gradually improved, my food relished and did me good; I could retire at night and sleep soundly without the former distress that before disturbed me. After using some less than two bottles, I was enabled to almost entirely discontinue its use, my digestive powers assumed so healthy a tone. Being grateful for the great good I conceive I received from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, I most cordially recommend a trial of it to any who may be suffering as I was." EMILIE L. SPEAR, Melrose, Mass.

STATE NEWS.

Aroostook.

Dennis McCormick, of Prince Edwards Island, aged about twenty, was drowned at Fort Fairfield while in bathing, Sunday.

Cumberland.

The Press says, about half a mile from Gorham village, on what is locally known as "the skirmish line," a shooting affray occurred, Sunday evening. It appears the wife of George Williams has been receiving the attentions of a railroad employe, named Davis, and on the evening mentioned, had just returned from Old Orchard and gone to her father's house (Spencer's). Williams immediately went to the house and as he was about to enter, was fired upon, it is alleged, by Davis, though at the time there were also in the house, Spencer, Lane, and another man, and received a flesh wound in the side. The wound is not considered serious, and there is a probability of further trouble between the parties when the injured man fully recovers.

Benjamin Anderson, a Swede, in jail awaiting trial for breaking into Murdoch & Freeman's shop, some weeks ago, hung himself to his cell door, in Cumberland county jail. He had torn a strip from his blanket and fastened it to the upper bar of the door. Anderson was about thirty-three years old.

Franklin.

The Phonograph says the wife of Rev. Mr. Woodcock, in Phillips, was thrown from her carriage and severely injured a few days ago.

Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Alonzo Bartlett, a well-known citizen of Litchfield, was kicked in the stomach by a horse belonging to Mr. Springer, of that town, receiving very severe internal injuries, from which it was thought he would not recover. He died from the effects of the kick Friday afternoon. Mr. Bartlett was a well known lecturer.

Knox.

The Camden Herald says the son of Thaddeus Hastings, of Hope, about five years old, while riding with his father on a lime cask team, on which were six thousand shingles, fell from the wagon and a wheel passed over his shoulder and across his body, crushing his hip bone and injuring him internally. His recovery is doubtful.

The steamship City of Merida, of the Alexandria Line, which arrived at New York from Vera Cruz and Havana last Wednesday evening, brought the crew of the brigantine Edith Hall, of Rockland, Maine, which was wrecked at the entrance of Chillipec Harbor, in Mexico. Additional particulars show Captain Gregory reported that the brigantine sailed from New York in ballast, and on the morning of May 17th, when outside the bar of Chillipec, he took a pilot. The latter brought the vessel over the bar, but the sea was quite rough and she was driven upon the bar. All attempts to get her off proved futile, and, after remaining on board for some days, Capt. Gregory and his crew of eight men abandoned the vessel. The brigantine went to pieces, but the crew saved the spars and sails, which, however, sold for very little. The vessel was built at Rockland, in 1868, by her owners, Snow, Farwell & Co. She was thoroughly repaired in 1877, and her measurement was 286 tons. The crew was sent home by the American Consul at Chillipec.

Washington.

An excursion party from St. George, N. B., has engaged a steamer to bring them to Eastport, July 4th. The St. George Band will accompany them.

Samuel Murphy, of Calais, aged fifty-five years, a sailor on the schooner Linden of that place, received a fracture of the leg, Thursday night, by being caught in the bight of a line as the vessel was warping through the Federal street draw-bridge, Boston.

York.

George D. Lord, of Limington, took first Greek prize of $30 at Dartmouth College.

The twelve-year old son of James Sullivan, of Biddeford, was struck by an engine on the Boston & Maine, Saturday evening, and fatally injured.

The Springvale Advocate says, Melvin Sanborn, of Acton, while attending a sick horse on the 21st, was kicked and instantly killed.

The Advertiser says, the 80th birthday of Mrs. Jane Pike was celebrated at the residence of her son, Mr. Charles Pike, at Buxton, Thursday. A royal entertainment was given the numerous members of the family, sixty-five in all, being five generations.

THE BEAR.

A COMPOSITION BY A SCHOOLBOY.

The bear is a very large animal with Black hair but some of them are White where they live in the Poly regens. The Grisly bear lives in the rocky mountains, but the Black bear he lives somewhere else. I ask my papa where the Black bear lives but he says it don't make any diffrens in the Round world wherabouts they live, so if you want to see a Black bear you will have to go to Forepaugh's Circus where they live the most. My Uncle Bill say the way he got in the Circus when he was of my Sise, he bist his umbrella and walk in so the man didn't see him but he expeck I am too Big for this because boys grow so fast These days. My papa says I am Eight years old but I expeck I am a heap older because I am begun to feel mighty Funny in the Legs. Me and my Uncle Bill and the cook has got more trouble in the Legs than most any People in this whole country for a long ways around. Because every time my Uncle Bill promise to take me to the Matanee, he have the Leg ache, and when my Uncle Bill call me to get a pitcher of Water, I have the Leg ache, and the cook she have the Leg ache all day so I have to pick greens for dinner, but I picked the wrong kind one day and the dinner would not stay where they put it, so the doctor said they must be Malary in the cellar. Bears do not go to school, but when they grow mad they lift up on their hind legs and, hug you awful until they heare your backbone, crack. My mama says no grown man will have his backbone cracked by any Bears if he stay at home at night, but my Uncle Bill he says the West End Hyener is worst than the Bears in the circus because the cook saw it waggin its tail and pawing of the dirt terrible. Bears, they have no tail so the hair must grow long to keep the flys off. My Uncle Bill, he told me a story about the Bears in the circus. He said one Time they was a show what had a funny clown which had lived with them for many years, and one Time the clown became so sick and told a fresh joke and this made the circus men so awful mad they fed him to the Black bears, and my mama said my uncle Bill is making fun but I know its so because one time I see a circus man when he was not in the ring and he had a great Big mustash and long whiskers and I know he must be the one because he look so mad, but my Papa says the Circus Bears do not get fat on clowns.

WASHINGTON'S CARRIAGE.

NOW IN THE POSSESSION OF A NEW YORKER.

The New York World says: The object which probably attracted more attention than all others in Harlem, Monday, was George Washington's carriage, which stood in the yard attached to "Lincoln Cottage," the residence of Captain Ben Richardson, on East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

The carriage is now in a rather dilapidated condition. It is much larger than the carriages of the present day. The front wheels are very small, while the hind wheels are unusually large. The body of the coach is of a light cream color, while the upper part is black. Green blinds are behind the windows and old-fashioned lamps are on each side of the driver's seat.

On each side of the carriage was a placard bearing the following inscription: "George Washington's carriage. The property of Captain Ben Richardson, Lincoln Cottage, Harlem, New York."

A number of men, women and children were found gazing at the curiosity and comparing it with the vehicles of the present day.

Lincoln cottage itself was something out of the usual run of residences. It is a three-story frame building, in which there is nothing unusual, but upon the roof are two little additions, from each of which a wooden cornice protrudes. Over one is painted "Fort Sumpter" and "Fort Donaldson" is over the other. To one of the trees in the yard is nailed a sign, upon which is painted "Lincoln Cottage."

Captain Richardson was in bed, but on a sort of desk which was placed over the bed, he was writing.

The room itself resembled a museum. Odd-looking war implements, oil portraits, ornithological subjects and other relics crowded each other on the walls. Under a case was a slouch hat which General Garfield wore. In another case was the cane which President Lincoln carried, while in still another case were a pair of gloves and a handkerchief which had been owned by President Lincoln.

"Yes, the carriage is attracting considerable attention, isn't it?" said the Captain; "and it did on Saturday when I drove it from the pier up to my house."

"What is the history of the carriage, Captain, as far as you know?" was asked.

"Well, I believe it was built for General Washington by a builder in Philadelphia, named Clarke, and Washington always rode it out, in the height of style, with six cream-colored horses and postilions and outriders.

"When in the spring of 1791 he visited the Southern States, he made the whole journey, 1,900 miles in that coach.

"For forty years it stood in the stone building where the station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company now is, and it was exhibited at the Sanitary Fair held in Philadelphia in 1864 during the rebellion.

"It was for some years in the carriage storehouse of Dunlap, at Fifth and Buttonwood streets, and was then exhibited at the Centennial Exhibition.

"It was owned at the time by Charles Wharton, of No. 2135 Spruce street, Philadelphia, of whom I bought it on December 8, 1876, for $650. I then loaned it to the proprietor of Wood's Museum, at the corner of Ninth and Arch streets, where it has remained until a few days ago, when I went to Philadelphia and brought it to this city.

"I had a small, light wagon, drawn by one horse, meet me at the pier, and I attached the carriage to the wagon. Then I, accompanied by my granddaughter, got upon the seat of the carriage, and we were driven along lower Broadway and up Fifth avenue, everywhere attracting the gaze of those on the streets.

"I will have it taken to my boat-house at the foot of One hundred and Twenty-third street; there it will be overhauled somewhat, and then I will have it taken to my carriage-house at King's Bridge, where it will be safe."

"And will you keep it there all the while?"

"Well, the next celebration of Evacuation Day is, I believe, to be a grand one, and I propose to ride in my carriage myself with six cream-colored horses, just as Washington did. I will invite President Arthur to ride on the coach and will also invite Secretary of War Lincoln, who is a friend of mine."

"Will you eventually sell the carriage?"

"Oh, no; I am going to form a museum of my curiosities, of which I propose the carriage to be the nucleus—the grand centre of attraction."

A DASTARDLY TRICK.

A MAN ROBBED BY A SWINDLER WHOM HE MISTOOK FOR HIS MISSING SON.

A Philadelphia despatch of June 24, says: Elmer Snyder is a wealthy farmer of Glen City, Columbia county. He is a widower, and lives alone with his servants in a fine house, close by the highway. He is a prominent figure in political and social circles and is deacon of the Methodist church there. About five years ago his wife died. The cause of her death was attributed to the absence of her only child, a boy who ran away from home about 15 years ago. Two weeks ago a young man presented himself to the farmer as his long-lost son. Simultaneously ugly rumors began to spread with regard to his past life in Chicago and other cities of the West. The story got about that the young man was imposing on the farmer, but he grew in the old man's favor.

On last Wednesday a handsome, elegantly dressed woman, unaccompanied, drove up to the village inn and secured accommodations for a few days, saying she was from Philadelphia and desired a quiet room. While walking on the street she met the lately returned farmer's son. They suddenly became intimate, and until Thursday night he was constantly in her society. He introduced her to a few young ladies as Mrs. Dickerson, of Philadelphia, and said she was the wife of a friend of his. On Friday morning the servants in the Snyder household were surprised by the non-appearance of Mr. Snyder at breakfast, and, as he was an early riser, the fact caused much comment. After waiting until ten o'clock they determined to call him. Going to his room they found the door locked. Bursting open the door they saw the old man lying at full length upon the floor, bound, and gagged. The ropes that bound him were wrapped around his arms and legs with a double twist, while the gag was tightly wedged in his mouth. Cutting the cords and lifting him to his feet, they administered restoratives.

When he had sufficiently recovered, the old man said: "That young man was not my son. I have been cruelly deceived and robbed," pointing to a safe which stood in the corner of the room. The servants saw that the safe had been opened and the contents scattered about on the floor. "Last night," continued the farmer, "the young man and I remained up till about eleven o'clock, talking about the western States. At last he started to talk about my real estate, money bonds, etc., but I never suspected anything. Shortly after, I went to bed. I soon thought I heard a noise, as though a door had been opened and shut, and I got up and looked out of the window, but as I couldn't see anything, I went back to bed again. I soon fell asleep. How long I slept I don't know, but I was roughly awakened by a gag being forced into my mouth, and, before I could help myself, I was bound and gagged. In the partial darkness I saw two figures. After they had securely fastened me, one of them went to the bureau and coolly lit the lamp. As soon as the light was turned up, I recognized the face of the young man whom I thought was my son and the stylish woman who had stopped at the tavern. The young man laughed quietly, and, taking up my trousers, took the key of the safe out of the pocket and deliberately proceeded to open it. The pair then examined the contents. The money they put in the valise which the women carried, while the papers were tossed about as you see them. After they had taken everything the young man came up to me and laughed in my face. 'Good by, papa,' he said; 'I'll pay your respects to your son when I get back to Chicago. He wants to hear from you.' They then went out, locking the door after them." This morning a detective from Chicago arrived in the village, looking for two persons whose description tallies exactly with that of the farmer's bogus son and the flashy woman who put up at the tavern. The man is thought to be a confidence man of Chicago, "Fly Bill."

THE BEST CAST ON RECORD.

A stout, portly looking gentleman stood in the midst of an attentive group of friends in a hotel, recently. He was evidently whipping the trout streams of his imagination, for he waved his cane above his head with the rhythmic motion of a leader of an orchestra. After making several superb casts he evidently hooked a spectre trout and landed him with great applause. Encouraged by his success he began to tell of an unusual capture once made by him, the novelty of which caused the most profound impression.

"You know, gentlemen," he said, "that the usual method of catching a trout is from the bank of a stream or out of a boat. Once, however, I captured a very big trout while riding on a train of cars. I was going up to Pike county, in Pennsylvania, fishing, as was my custom for many years. The conductor of the train was a brother angler and I rode with him in the baggage car, chatting over the fish we had taken. The conversation turned to those we had not secured. My friend said:—'General, we will soon come to a narrow stream which the road crosses, where resides an ancient and remarkably wary trout. For thirty-six years I have endeavored to hook him without avail. Men have grown thin digging worms to catch him. He dwells under an old log, just beneath the bridge, waiting for the fragments of lunch which fall from the cars.'

An idea at once occurred to me. I took my rod from its case and put it together, adjusted the reel and tied on a favorite cast, which, by the way, was given to me by Sir Morton Peto when he visited me in this country. "I said:—'I'll try the old duffer. Don't stop the train, but slow up when you come to the stream.' In a few minutes the train went rumbling on the bridge. The baggage master exclaimed, 'Here we are,' and rolled back the door at the side of the car. I made my cast, gentlemen, and had him, by jove! He weighed over four and a half pounds. It was a he one."

Boston is the second banking city in the country. It has fifty-three national banks, with an aggregate capital of fifty millions.

We are pleased to see that in the Internal Revenue changes Collector Charles W. Slack, of Boston, is to be retained at the head of the consolidated Third District.

Letters received by last steamer announce that it is believed the Chilians will gradually evacuate the north of Peru under the treaty made with Iglesias.

It is now authoritatively denied that an agreement has been reached between France and China, but it is said that China is massing troops on the borders of Tonquin.

Ex-Senator McDonald, the most eager aspirant for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, laments that "no dependence can be placed upon newspaper men." Later he will lament that no dependence can be placed upon Democrats.

When a member of Senator Thurman's family, and his only son, announces an intention to support the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, there is blood on the face of the political moon. The nomination of Hoadley has not aided the Presidential prospects of the Democratic party.

The Sultan and his assistants ought to be convinced by this time that General Lew Wallace, our Minister at Constantinople, is not a man to be trifled with. Only the other day he refused to accept a system of licenses to which his diplomatic colleagues had conditionally agreed, but which, upon hearing of his decision, they made haste to repudiate, and now he is insisting upon an apology from the Porte for the manner in which an American physician, who had begun the practice of his profession in Tripoli, has been treated by the local authorities.

Another indiscreet man has involved himself in a heap of trouble by fooling with Uncle Sam's money. A jeweller at Baltimore displayed gilded nickels in his show windows for sale, and among his customers were a deputy U. S. marshal and a secret service detective. The jeweller, when arrested, said he sold the gilded coins for watch charms, but as the sale could not carry with it any obligation on the part of the purchaser to use the charm for that innocent purpose, the officials were not satisfied with the excuse. Trifling with the Government coinage, however innocent the motive, is a very dangerous business.

Fuller particulars of the Virginia duel that didn't come off fail to give any very cogent reason for its non-occurrence, it being conceded that the illegality and moral heinousness of such proceedings do not constitute very cogent reasons against duelling in the mind of the average Virginia editor. Certainly no editor of the western Territories or the Pacific States would have allowed the appearance of a police force of one to prevent a duelling party of six from proceeding to the execution of the purpose for which they had come together. Six bloodthirsty Virginia duelists, armed with various kinds of pistols, arrested by one policeman are enough to convince even Don Quixote that the age of "chivalry" is past.

The 400th anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther, which occurs in November of the present year, will be commemorated throughout the Protestant world. In Washington it is proposed to signalize the occasion by the erection of a monument to the honor of Luther. The plan contemplated was to have the centre part of the Luther monument at Worms, Germany, reproduced in Munich and erected in front of the Memorial Church, corner of Fourteenth street and Vermont avenue. As the time for the recasting of the whole centre part was found too short, however, to admit of the unveiling by Nov. 10, and the entire amount for defraying the cost was not secured, it was decided to erect the figure of Luther alone, for which purpose $7000 has to be raised by subscription.

In conversation with the Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller, Senator Plumb gives his views on the political outlook in Ohio, as follows: "The Ohio campaign this year will be one of the most memorable in the political history of the country. The Democrats will go in with a hurrah, but as the campaign grows older, they will have to face the fact that they have a big job on their hands. Judge Hoadley has many elements of weakness. He is comparatively a late convert to Democracy, and thousands of old-time Democrats will recent his nomination to the extent of refusing to vote at the polls. They may not openly bolt, but they will cast their ballots against him. The nomination of Mr. Hoadley means that the Democrats will have all the money they want to run the campaign with, and that they will not have to go out of the State to get it. Judge Hoadley will run another Bookwalter fight. He will run it according to the merits and dimensions of the barrel. The Democrats will go in prepared to spend money like water, and a campaign conducted that way has its weak points. The people very soon become disgusted with an open, shameless exhibition of a barrel. Judge Hoadley is stronger now than he will be at any stage of the campaign. He will endeavor to mass the liquor vote of the large cities of the State on his side, but while he is attending to that the enormous country vote may be getting away from him. I do not think Judge Hoadley is as strong in Ohio by at least 10,000 votes as General Durbin Ward. The support Judge Hoadley will receive from the Thurman wing of the Ohio Democrats will be very lukewarm. On the other hand the Republicans, under the leadership of Senator Sherman, Gov. Foster, and men of that stamp, will gather themselves together for a great struggle. Mr. Sherman and Mr. Foster have everything at stake, and they have never been beaten in Ohio. They have heretofore proved to be invincible. Senator Sherman has the confidence of the Germans for his stand on the finance question, and I do not know that the liquor interest is opposed to him. He will exert a powerful influence in that direction. From a careful survey of the field I am satisfied that the Republicans will win at the polls if the campaign is properly managed, and I have no doubt it will be."

A REMARKABLE SPEECH.

[Boston Journal.]

Gen. Durbin Ward, who was defeated in the Ohio Democratic Convention, did not want to make a speech, but being finally forced to do so, he made the following significant speech:

"I am extremely grateful to my friends for the gallant fight they made for my nomination. For more than thirty years I have stood firm by the cause of Democracy in a powerless county and powerless district, and was always called upon to lead a forlorn hope when victory was impossible. Now, at the end of a long life, when I ask to be made Governor, you have chosen to prefer another. The voice of Democracy is to me a law, and when you have chosen to nominate for Governor of the State a man who has not rendered you one-tenth part of the service that I have, I bow in acquiescence. I shall take the stump with whatever power I have, and bring victory to the banner. Gentlemen, it is not the usage of a Democratic Convention heretofore to call upon the defeated candidate for Governor to make his appearance. You call for the successful candidate, but leave the disappointed man to come before you and exhibit his griefs or explain his wrongs. You have chosen to call me here to muster me out of service at the end of thirty years. [Cries of No.] Gentlemen, I regret extremely that you called me here now. It reminds me when I had fought for years, and was wounded. Do you see that lame arm has to lay at my back? When they attempted to muster me out, I went to Washington and had myself mustered back again, and continued to fight for several campaigns; and so now I may say what I did not desire to say but what you have compelled me to say. I refused to be mustered out of service.

And I say to you, as you have chosen to prefer another man for Governor, you have left no place for me but the Senator in Congress, and I therefore openly proclaim myself, whatever may be the results, as a candidate for the United States Senate. I did not desire to say all this. I besought the committee that called upon me not to bring me here. I would not say that that would be disagreeable to them and to the convention. I am too much of a Napoleon to give up the battle because I happened to be last. Let me add one word more, then I shall close. I shall use not one dollar to procure my nomination to the United States Senate. I shall appeal to the strong horse sense of the Democratic party. As they refused me the lower place I shall ask that one, and if I get it I shall favor the doctrine that to the Democrats who win the victory belong the spoils.

One word more and then I close. The word is one of justification of myself. Not one man in this State has done the work in thirty years that I have done that has not been recognized by the nomination for Governor or Senator. They have chosen not to give me that honor, and now, in my old days, I declare that I will have that place if I can get it. Had I been recognized before or allowed to take a subordinate place, and have some reward, I would at once submit to those of greater talent. When I have received nothing I come boldly and say I ask that as the last one I shall ever ask from the American people."

Gen. Ward's declaration that he would "not use a dollar to procure a nomination to the United States Senate" must be regarded as a pointed reflection upon the methods employed by those who have insured his defeat, as it is well known that he was defeated in 1881 by the money of Bookwalter and this year by that of Judge Hoadley and his friends. The further declaration that if he gets the Senatorship he "will favor the doctrine that to the Democrats who win the victory belong the spoils" is not only the favorite Democratic doctrine in Ohio but was intended as a rebuke for Senator Pendleton, whom he regards as his competitor. That this declaration was received with cheers shows that the Ohio Democracy is in accord with Ward rather than Pendleton. And yet without money Gen. Ward does not stand a ghost of a chance to secure the Senatorship—a fact which doubtless every Democrat in Ohio who knows the methods fully realizes.

The United States engineer officer sent to survey the Eads' jetties in the Mississippi, reports that the shoalest water between New Orleans and the Gulf is about the middle of South Pass, near the Bayou Grande, where the least depth was twenty-six and nine-tenths feet on May 25, the date of the report, and the least width of this channel was sixty feet. Vessels drawing twenty-six feet can go to New Orleans without touching bottom or meeting with any detention.

An adventurous scribe invaded ex-Senator David Davis's home the other day, and tried to interview that statesman. Of course he first asked who would be the next Presidential candidates, and insisted upon an answer, for "You must have some idea, Judge," he said. "Yes," replied the other, "I have an idea—that your question is too broad to be traversed in one lifetime." "But if the Democrats were to urge you to accept their nomination, what would you say?" "My dear sir, I should say that it was none of your business. Excuse me for being rude, but I can't be interviewed." The reporter went, then; but in parting he asked the ex-Senator why he had such a strong, massive fence around his property. "Why," was the reply, "the 'buzzards of the press' say that I am always sitting on it, so it needs to be pretty strong!"

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THE UNIVERSALISTS.

State Convention at Dexter.

DEXTER, June 26. The State Universalist Convention is now in session here. The present attendance is not large, but comprises many celebrated divines and leading men. The singing is conducted by Stanford Mitchell, of Boston, and Mr. Alice Livermore, of Lewiston, presides at the organ. Rev. E. E. Peck, of Bangor, preached an able an eloquent sermon in the forenoon. At 2 P. M., a meeting of the Woman's Centenary Association was held, Rev. Mrs. Thomas, of ——, presiding. After transacting the usual business, Rev Mrs C. A. Soule, late missionary in Scotland, gave an interesting account of the mission work there.

A business meeting was held at 4 o'clock P. M., with Hon. Ara Cushman, President, in the chair. The report of the Secretary, Rev. I. J. Mead, was accepted and the recommendation to continue hiring missionaries for state work was also accepted. It was voted to amend the constitution so the meetings of the conventions should occur earlier in June each year, in order not to interfere with the commencement exercises at Westbrook Seminary. Ex-Gov. Perham and Rev. Henry Blanchard delivered very interesting addresses in the evening on the subject of Education.

The Programme

A Remarkable Charge

TROY, June 26. Garrett J. Rose, aged ——, has been held for examination at Middlebury, Vt., on a charge of attempted poisoning of his mother, Mrs. Amanda Rose, by putting Paris green in a bottle containing whiskey. He is also accused of having assaulted her and threatening to take her life if she exposed him. Rose bears a good reputation and the charges are not generally believed. Many think the woman is deranged and that she attempted to take her own life.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Gov. Hale's Staff.

CONCORD, June 26. Gov. Hale announced the following staff appointments this forenoon:

Adjutant General, Augustus D. Ayling, of Concord.

Inspector General, Elbert Wheeler, of Nashua.

Quartermaster General, Solon S. Wilkinson, of Keene.

Surgeon General, George H. Calley, of Bristol.

Judge Advocate, Gen. Everett Fletcher, of Lancaster.

Commissioner General, Gilman B. Johnson, of Concord.

Aides de Camp, Cols Frank G. Clark, of Peterboro, Gilbert P. Whitman, of Manchester, John Pender, of Portsmouth, and Converse J. Smith, of Concord.

The U. S. Senatorship.

CONCORD, June 26. The ballot for U. S. Senator at noon to-day resulted as follows:

Whole number cast,	331
Necessary to a choice,	161
Gilman Marston,	13
Aaron F. Stevens,	17

James F. Briggs,	30
Henry Bingham,	117
Edward H. Rollins,	104

Rollins loses 9 from Friday's ballot.

A Conference of Rollins Men was held to-night and forty-seven were present. The meeting was called to order by Col. Whitehouse, of Rochester, and Senator Wheeler was chosen chairman. Messrs. Adams, of Plymouth, Cornig, of Concord, Page, of Piermont, Quint, of Dover, Shaw, of Concord, Varney, of Wolfboro, Speaker Eastman and others favored adhering to the caucus nominee, some announcing a determination to vote for Rollins to the last. Several anti-caucus men attended the conference as spectators, taking no part in the proceedings. There is no perceptible change in the situation to-night. The anti-caucus men assert that Rollins will lose several votes to-morrow, while supporters of the latter say he cannot possibly fall below 96, the number received at the caucus when he was nominated although they expect he will have upwards of 100 on the next ballot. A paper which is being circulated among the Rollins men, pledging support to the nominee of the caucus until he withdraws or a majority of the signers shall determine otherwise at a conference to be called for that purpose, has received numerous signatures to-night and it is expected most of his supporters will sign it.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Eighteen Men Killed and Many Injured.

HELENA, Mo., June 26. A despatch from Missoula says: News was brought here to-day by an eye witness that on the 23d inst., at 6.30 P. M., at Elk Creek, a mile and a half east of Heron Siding, a gravel train backing down was run into by a wood train and eighteen Chinamen on the gravel train instantly killed, and from twenty to twenty-five others wounded. The engineer of the gravel train was also killed and the fireman seriously injured. No one was hurt on the wood train. Both engines are complete wrecks. The dead were buried at Heron Siding and the wounded cared for.

FROM WASHINGTON.

General News.

Cabinet Meeting—Irish Pauper Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, June 26. The regular cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except Messrs. Frelinghuysen and Teller. The principal question considered was in relation to the alleged shipments of pauper immigrants to this country from Ireland by the British authorities. The result of the deliberations on this subject were shown in the subsequent action of the Secretary of the Treasury, who telegraphed instructions to the Collector of Customs at New York to co-operate with the Commissioners of Emigration at that port to prevent the landing of all immigrants found to be paupers within the meaning of the law. The collector is instructed to take all practicable measures to have them shipped to the port from whence they came.

The Washington Monument.

It now seems probable that work on the Washington monument will have to be temporarily suspended, owing to the failure of the new contractors for furnishing stone to supply material for the builders. All the marble that was on hand at the opening of the season has been used, and the shipments by the new contractors, the Lee Marble Company of Massachusetts, has been insufficient to allow of further progress. Only twenty-nine pieces of marble have been received from their quarries during the present month, and the larger part of this marble will be rejected as unsuitable for the work for which it was intended. Capt. Davis, of the monument office, is now making an examination of the Lee quarries to see what the prospects are for obtaining marble in any quantity this season. The height of the monument has been increased thirty feet this season and it is now 370 feet high.

The Hill Investigation.

During the investigation to-day Hill said that each and every charge and specification against him of frauds in connection with Bartlett, Robbins & Co's contracts for work done on the New York post office building is false and malicious. General Tyler whose name was mentioned yesterday in connection with an offer of $4,500 for Manly Cooper Co., being present was at this point permitted to make a statement. He said "I am charged here with having made an offer of bribery. I never made any offer to Manly Cooper Co. Nor did I ever suggest to them to make an imperfect shutter.

THE FLOODS.

Latest Reports.

KANSAS CITY, June 26. At eleven o'clock to-day the river was 23 feet 7 inches, an inch higher than at midnight and 13 inches above the gauge of Sunday night. It is now nearly stationary but with indications that it will continue slowly to advance. Six inches more will start the water over east bottoms and West Kansas City and the people of those suburbs are watchful. Kaw river is very high and it is reported still rising. The water is still two feet, two inches below the flood of 1881 and as yet has not occasioned serious damage about the city, but if the present conditions continue the rise will soon compel a movement of the people along the outskirts of low lying suburbs.

Hundreds of Houses Flooded

ST. LOUIS, June 26. The river is falling slowly in east St. Louis on the river side of the Chicago & Alton track, but is still rising on the bottoms east of that embankment. From Brooklyn and Venice on the river bank northward to Newport and Mitchell and from along the Vandalia up the bottom lands for a dozen miles or more there is nothing but a broad expanse of water and the scene is one of desolation and ruin.

Three-quarters of Brooklyn is under water and only one street in Venice and a bit of high ground in the north part of the town are above the flood level. In East St. Louis all the lowlands are inundated to a depth of 10 to 20 feet and hundreds of houses are flooded.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Changes Made by the Consolidation of Districts.

WASHINGTON, June 26. The President has issued an Executive order promulgating the changes made in the Internal Revenue Collection Districts in accordance with the action taken by Congress at its last session. The order is to take effect on the first of July next or as soon thereafter as practicable. The number of districts is reduced from 126 to 82, a reduction of 44. Among the changes are the following:

Connecticut—The two districts in this State are consolidated into one district, with Joseph Selden, of Norwich, Collector of the present First District, as Collector.

Massachusetts—The Third and Fifth Districts are consolidated under the name of the Third, with Charles W. Slack, Collector of the present Third District, as Collector. His office will be at Boston.

New York—No change is made in the Collection Districts in the city of New York and on Long Island. The Eleventh and Fourteenth Districts are consolidated with headquarters at Albany; the Twelfth District with the Fifteenth, with headquarters at Troy; the Twenty-first, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth Districts are consolidated, with headquarters at Utica; and the Twenty-eighth and Thirtieth Districts are consolidated.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

New Canadian Outlet for the Northern Pacific Railroad

MONTREAL, Que., June 26. The contract for another great railway enterprise has been awarded. The project is to build a new line, to be called the Ontario & Pacific Railway, from Cornwall, on the banks of the St. Lawrence, to Sault Ste. Marie to connect with the Northern Pacific Railway over the big bridge at the western terminus. The distance is 700 miles. It is claimed that this will make the most direct and shortest line west from the Atlantic seaboard, and will give the Northern Pacific an advantage over both the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk from ocean to ocean. The Dominion Government charter gives the company power to build a bridge over the St. Lawrence, and American connections are already secured from the border line to Portland, Maine, Boston and New York. A large part of the new road will run almost parallel with the Canadian Pacific to Salt Ste. Marie. It will receive large bonuses from municipal and other resources. The contract was given to I. M. Shute, of Philadelphia, and the promoters are American and Canadian capitalists. Bonds to the amount of $12,-000,000 will be issued. This will be a tremendous rival to the Canadian Pacific. Duncan McIntyre and R. B. Angus, Directors, and Van Horne, General Manager, went have gone in haste to the Metapedia fishing grounds, down the St. Lawrence, to meet President Stephen of the Canadian Pacific, in regard to this threatening scheme. The project, which has been kept secret, has created a sensation here.

PRESS EXCURSION.

Editors at Newport.

PROVIDENCE, June 26. About seventy-five members of the New Jersey Editorial Association, with their wives and daughters, numbering one hundred and twenty-five or more, arrived at Newport this morning on their annual reunion excursion. No business will be done as relief from labor is sought. A ball will be given Wednesday evening. The Association will visit Boston one day and leave for home Friday.

TREASURER POLK

To be Tried at Once.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 26. The case of the defaulting State Treasurer Polk was called for trial to-day and the defence asked for a continuance, claiming that the State Attorney General had received $60,-000 in cash from the defendant and had approved of an arrangement by which other large sums were to be paid the State out of Polk's property. Judge Allen refused a continuance and the empanelling of the jury was begun.

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, June 26. The Senate this afternoon defeated the House resolve providing for the prorogation of the Legislature to August 27.

COMMENCEMENT SEASON.

HANOVER, N. H., June 26. The graduating exercises at the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts occurred this forenoon. The degree of Bachelor of Science was conferred on twelve graduates. The prizes offered by the Alumni of the Agricultural College for the best essays on topics connected with political economy were awarded, first prize to Elmore F. Arnold, second to Charles M. Woodward, Hanover, N. H.

At Amherst College.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 26. The attendance at the class day exercises at Amherst College to-day was unusually large. The Juniors gave a gymnastic exhibition in the morning, followed by a sacred concert at the College church by the College Glee Club and an out of town quartette. The class ivy was planted at 10.30 A. M. The Seniors visited the various college buildings saluting each with the class cheer. In the afternoon the exercises were opened by prayer by President Seelye. Edward S. Parsons delivered the Class Day Oration and W. F. Field delivered the Poem. The farewell pipe and college songs followed. The class of '73 reunion banquet at the Amherst House, to-night, was attended by twenty-one members. The Phi Beta Kappa philosophical prize is awarded to S. W. Hamlin, of Amherst. The class day concert, this evening, at College Hall was largely attended, and the Alpha Delta Phi and Psi Upsilon receptions at their club houses were brilliant affairs.

Harvard College.

The annual convention of the Alumni Association of Harvard Divinity School was held this afternoon at Cambridge. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, Augustus Woodbury.
Vice President, H. W. Foote.
Secretary, S. J. Barrows.

Short eulogies were delivered on the deceased members. Rev. Dr. Hedge delivered a sermon on "The History of the Animal and Spiritual Man."

It is reported that every member of the class of '83 will receive a degree of A. B., if he paid his term bill, and another report has been in circulation to the effect that the parchments will not be given to graduates to-morrow, but only certificates which may be exchanged for diplomas after Commencement night, provided the bearer has not been apprehended as a party to the disturbance that usually occurs on that occasion. The Seniors are wrath at this and have voted almost unanimously not to accept these certificates should they be offered.

The class which graduates to-morrow numbers 210, the largest in the history of the college. The necrology of the alumni for the past year was 97 deaths, just half the number of the preceding year.

LONDON, June 26. At a session of the Fisheries Conference last night Mr. Lowell, U. S. Minister, presided. Prof. Goode, of the American commission, read a paper on American fisheries, at the conclusion of which Marquis of Exeter moved a vote of thanks to the Professor.

Mr. Lowell said he believed that without national vanity he might say that the generous grant by the United States Congress had greatly encouraged the fisheries exhibition. The scientific and practical character of the American department was acknowledged. The American fisheries, he said, were a mine of wealth and nursery for seamen and were protected rather by the people than by the law.

CECILIA EXCURSION. The Cecilia Club, on their first excursion, were favored, yesterday, with delightful weather and a more enjoyable occasion is rarely participated in. The party was a large and pleasant one and everything passed off pleasantly. The barge Clifford stopped at Islesboro but a considerable number continued on the steamer Ralph Ross to Eagle Island which was reached in the vicinity of 2 o'clock. After remaining about an hour the steamer returned to Islesboro and the party left for Bangor about 6, arriving here before 11 o'clock. There are thirty-five men at work on the ground and the buildings. The old office buildings were sold Saturday.

SPIRITED WRESTLING. Lovers of manly sports were vouchsafed a rare treat at Norombega Hall last evening. The attraction was a wrestling match between H. M. Both men were in fine trim and some very lively wrestling was witnessed. Dufur weighs 181 pounds and O'Donnell 225 pounds. The first contest was won by Dufur in 3 minutes, the second by O'Donnell in 11 minutes and the third by Dufur in 9 minutes. A despatch from Wm. E. Harding, who was expected to arrive from New York to act as referee, said that on account of sickness he could not be present. The exhibition was the best of the kind ever given in this city.

OBITUARY. Many friends in Maine and elsewhere will be pained to learn of the sudden death of Francis B. Blanchard, Esq., formerly of Waterville, but for many years a resident of New York city and its vicinity, at one of the suburbs of which at Fort Washington he died on Wednesday last at the age of 73 years. Mr. Blanchard's health was much affected by the death of his eldest son and of his wife within a few years, but had attended to business up to the time immediately preceding his death. He was a man of genial disposition, generous hospitality and kind heart, and a devoted husband and father. He gave much time and labor to an improvement of steam boilers, and had been brought in contact with many eminent people, by whom he will be pleasantly remembered, and his death will be mourned by two sons and two daughters, and other relatives and friends in this and other States. The funeral was held at the late residence at Fort Washington, on the Hudson, on Saturday last.

COLBY BASE BALL ASSOCIATION. Our Colby correspondent writes: At the regular annual meeting of the Colby B. B. A. officers were elected for the ensuing year. The management has gone into the hands of E. E. Stevens, one of the directors of the past year. The nine will be captained as before. The reports submitted by those just leaving their offices speaks for admirable management in all points. The finances were never before in such good condition as at the close of this season. The superior ability of the last manager, Mr. Whittle, of Ellsworth, is attested in the wonderful success with which the nine has met during the succession of nine straight games while under his supervision since the opening of the year, '83. At the election of his successor the association tendered him a hearty vote of thanks for services rendered and also requested him to perform the duties of his position until the close of the present season. On Saturday next he will take the nine to Lewiston where the game that decides the championship will be played with the Bowdoin nine.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Visit of the Worcester County Commandery—Reception of the Knights by St. John's Commandery—Banquet at Masonic Hall—Procession Through the Principal Streets—Trip to Basin Mills.

The pilgrimage of Worcester County Commandery, Knights Templar, to this city, is a pleasant event in the history of St. John's Commandery. The visiting Knights left their home in Worcester early Monday afternoon and departed from Boston on the good steamer Cambridge, under the command of the genial Capt. Ingraham, at 5 P. M., arriving here between twelve and one yesterday afternoon after a very enjoyable trip. There were over 100 Knights in the party and they were accompanied by the Worcester Cadet Band (25 pieces) under the leadership of E. D. Ingraham.

St. John's Commandery assembled at Masonic Hall at 11.30 o'clock, and under the command of Sir Arlington B. Marston, Eminent Commander, escorted by the Bangor Band, marched to Summer street, where the procession halted. Upon arrival of the steamer the visiting Knights formed in line and were escorted by Generalissimo W. H. Kirkpatrick, of St. John's Commandery, to Summer street, where they were received by the Bangor Knights.

THE PROCESSION

then began a march over a few streets on the West Side in the following order.

Platoon of police.
Bangor Band (24 pieces), R. B. Hall, leader.
St. John's Commandery, K. T., A. B. Marston, Eminent Commander.
Barouches.
Worcester Cadet Band (25 pieces), E. D. Ingraham leader.
Worcester County Commandery, Chas G. Reed, Eminent Commander.
Barouches.

The procession marched up Summer street to Union, up Union to High and halted at the residence of Sir Knight Jacob Sterns, where refreshments were served, and button hole bouquets furnished all the members of the visiting commandery and band by the following young misses: Ida Gerrish, Julia Dillingham, Edith Drummond, Maud Clayton, Lillie Kerr, Nettie Kirkpatrick, Bessie Noyes, Nellie Nichols, Marcia Nichols, Mamie Rowe, May Farnham and Lena Dyer, all daughters of Sir Knights. While making this halt each band played a selection. The procession then continued through High street to Hammond, up Hammond to Union, up Union to Hudson, down Hudson to Ohio, down Ohio to Hammond, down Hammond to Main and up Main to the Masonic Hall, where was served. Thorough preparation had been made for satisfying the wants of the hungry Knights and bountiful refreshments were in waiting for them. The Knights entered the banquet hall by twos, each couple being composed of a Worcester and Bangor man. The tables were profusely decorated with flowers and the hall presented an attractive appearance. An elaborate menu was arranged and the collation was a most excellent one. Several invited guests participated in the refreshments and the number who joined in the sumptuous repast was about three hundred.

THE LINE WAS REFORMED

about 3.30 P. M., and proceeded down Main street, across Kenduskeag Bridge, up State to Broadway, up Broadway to Somerset, down Somerset to French and down French to the residence of Sir Knight Silas Alden, where a halt was made and refreshments served. Each band played a selection in the grounds of this venerable representative of the order. The procession then continued down French street to State, down State to Exchange and down Exchange to the depot. A fine appearance was made by the Knights in their handsome regalia and the bands played beautiful and inspiring music. At 5 o'clock the party embarked on a in special cars on the regular Oldtown accommodation. The objective point was reached in a short time and the visitors had an opportunity of examining one of the largest saw mills in the world. The establishment belongs to James Walker & Co., and Mr. J. P. Walker, of the firm was very attentive to the strangers. The main mill is 450 feet by 66, and the new mill 66 feet by 68, and the equipment comprises 4 gangs, 1 rotary, 3 single saws, 6 lath machines, 3 sets of box machinery, 4 planers, 1 clapboard machine and clapboard planer, stave machine, stave planer, heading machine and shingle machines. The capacity of the mill is 25,000,000 feet of long lumber for the season and there are now being sawed 150,000 to 200,000 feet per day. The annual product is 10,000,000 laths, 600,000 staves, 50,000 pairs heads, 800,000 boxes, 300,000 clapboards, 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 shingles, also pickets and other short lumber, besides two cooper shops, which make annually 25,000 barrels. About 300 men are employed at this establishment. A large store and boarding house are owned by the firm. After a thorough inspection of the premises the party returned by regular train, arriving about half past six o'clock.

THE EVENING

was passed informally and many embraced the opportunity to drive through the streets of our city. The visitors made their headquarters at the Bangor House and Penobscot Exchange where their wants were attended to in a most satisfactory manner. At the Bangor House the dining hall, at tea, was decorated profusely with flowers.

During the evening the Cadet Band gave a brilliant concert at the Bangor House.

THE OFFICERS

of Worcester County Commandery are as follows: Chas. G. Reed, Em. Com; Geo. E. Boyden, Gen.; F. A. Harrington, Capt. Gen; Henry Goddard, Prelate; R. H. Chamberlain, S. W.; C. P. Shattuck, J. W.; Wm. AMUSEMENTS.

Commencement Lecture.

Mr. Harry W. French will bring the exercises of Commencement Week at the State College to a close to-morrow (Thursday) evening with an illustrated lecture in Orono Town Hall on "The Land of the Midnight Sun." Of Mr. French the Brooklyn Eagle says:

Mr. Harry W. French last evening began his series of illustrated lectures at the Brooklyn Tabernacle. The theme of the opening lecture was "The Land of the Midnight Sun," and the high reputation which Mr. French attained in other cities was fully justified by the encomiums of the vast audience, which completely filled the Tabernacle. The entertainment was regarded by every one present as one of the most delightful they had ever witnessed. The dissolving views with which the lecture was copiously illustrated were superior to any ever exhibited in this city. The pictures, however, were not the only charm of the entertainment, for Mr. French accompanied them with graphic and brilliant descriptions of scenery and life in the Northern regions, and in a most eloquent and pleasing manner.

Notes.

The Corinne Merrie Makers will not appear at the Opera House July 4th, as announced in these columns, as they have decided to play a protracted engagement in Newfoundland. The management of the Opera House, however, have made an engagement with the Rennie Opera Company for the fourth, when they will give two performances, afternoon and evening. "La Mascotte" and "Olivette" will be produced at popular prices.

Miss Louise Baldwin is to go on a two months' concert tour through the Provinces.

Forepaugh's Great Show

Adam Forepaugh's Great Show exhibited in Portland on Monday and the papers of that city speak of it in words of the most enthusiastic praise. The Press says:

All the appointments in the main tent were unusually complete, the animals spirited, clean and well kept, and the costumes of the performers made in excellent taste. Two herds of elephants, one composed of the largest, the other of the smallest, animals went through a number of evolutions, military drill, etc., with great precision and intelligence; and a number of beautiful horses, and ponies performed all the tricks with which former years has made us familiar. Miss Lillie Deacon's very handsome and spirited saddle horse must also be mentioned as constituting one of the chief attractions in this department. The horseback riding was of a high order of merit, very dashing and confident and introducing some new and startling feats of equestrianism. One of the most remarkable performance was that of the Japanese ropewalker who, with no other balance than that afforded him by a large umbrella, walked backward up a tight rope to the top of the tent and then slid rapidly down, still standing erect. Very thrilling feats were also performed on the trapeze by the Silbons, who took long and perilous flights through the air.

Leonati's ride up a narrow and spiral path, to the top of the tent on a bicycle, and, still more perilous his descent by the same means, is also very exciting. Another great attraction is George Jagendorfer, whose feats of strength easily eclipse any that have ever been seen here, and in addition to him appear performers on slack wires, rolling spheres, etc. Altogether the ring and special performances cannot easily be surpassed. The entertainments concluded with Roman standing and chariot races, flat and hurdle races for men and women riders, elephant and camel races, etc., all of which were hotly contested and very exciting.

Agricultural.

TIME TO CUT HAY.

The season for haying is now close at hand. Favorable conditions have given a stand of grass which promises an abundant hay harvest. Help is not plenty; farms are not very liberally supplied with help for the season, and wages are high. The value of the hay crop of New Hampshire, and the same is true of Maine, reckoned at market prices for what is sold, exceeds the value of all other crops combined; yet this great crop is to be harvested, or ought to be in four weeks' time. This can only be done with the use of machinery. There is not an available supply of help sufficient to harvest the crop in the time desired in the old-fashioned manner of hand-power alone. This ability to harvest the crop in a short time is, after all, the great incentive to the use of machinery, more than the reduction in cost. Therefore the introduction of labor-saving implements in the hay harvest needs no further encouragement. The matter commends itself to all intelligent farmers.

The stage of growth at which grass shall be cut in order to be of most value to the feeder is by no means a settled question. Nor is it a question which can be easily determined. It is a complicated question, dependent in a measure on the use to which it is put, or rather the purpose for which it is fed, and also the combination of other feeds, if any, which are to be fed with it. Hence one feeder's conclusions, or his practice, are not always the best for every other. There has been in the last ten or fifteen years a popular clamor for early cutting of hay. These special pleaders would have had us all believe that all unsatisfactory results in our stock husbandry were directly attributable to late-cut hay. Platform haymakers went so far as to publicly advocate the cutting of grass in its immature stages or before the formation, even, of the seed stalks. In some cases this was put in practice among the amateur farmers, and others, whose heads are easily turned by every current of thought. I must confess in my own case to having my attention so forcibly called to the matter that from that time to the present I have given careful investigation to the subject, both as a feeder and as a reader.

There is no question but that this popular clamor for early cutting of grass has been carried too far, and further than its merits will warrant. There is a serious loss in quantity from cutting grass before it is fully grown. Many farmers under my personal observation have made this fatal mistake. From the time the advocates of "dried grain" begin to cut the crop there is a large increase of quantity from its former growth. This growth, in favorable seasons, continues up to the time of the ripening of the grass. Experiments at the New Hampshire College found a gain in some cases reaching forty per cent. The same repeated on our own college farm have shown a large increase in every trial save one, when a parching drought was prevailing, running from twenty to thirty per cent. Every observing farmer notices each year a marked growth in those fields left standing one or two weeks after he first begins his work. This gain of twenty, thirty or forty per cent. in the quantity of hay is a matter of no small account and should not be lost sight of.

It is a safe proposition to lay down, that a field of grass contains the most nutrition at the time it has completed its growth. By this I do not mean at the time it has ripened off. This period of the completion of its growth will be, usually, seven to ten days past the blossom. At this time grass retains all the greenness of its earlier stages, there is more in quantity, and its nutritive material is organized into that condition which is most valuable for stock food. It has not been popular to lay down such a claim, but it has been forced upon me by results in my own experience. Many other farmers, too, have found the same convincing evidence in the feeding barns. All know that stock at pasture grow fatter and fatten better on the mature grasses of the last of July and the month of August than on the immature grasses of June. "I do know," said a long celebrated stock-feeder of Massachusetts, when butting the advocates of "dried grass," that cattle running in a honeysuckle pasture will thrive better and fatten faster after the heads have browned from maturity, than when it is a sheet of white blossoms."

Accurate experimental work at the agricultural colleges and experiment stations—and we need more of it—is discovering unexpectedly the same fact. Prof. Sanborn, of N. H. college, much to his surprise, reached like results with trials repeated. Some of the Western colleges have been at the same problem. Superintendent Gowell of the Maine College farm has been at work the past winter with critical tests of the comparative value of hay cut as late as eighteen days after full blossom. His results will be made public in a few days.

What we want, then, is not to cut grass earlier but to cut it quicker. Grass should not be cut before full in blossom, and better if a little past. Neither should it stand till a change of color, indicating ripeness, takes place. Its full greenness of color should be retained and with it that delicious aroma so inviting to the appetites of the animal. At this stage is its greatest value realized. This requires that it be harvested in a short period of time. Therefore in practice it becomes necessary, in many cases where large quantities are harvested, to extend the season somewhat beyond the narrow limits of the strictly right condition of the grass. In this case there is less liability of loss from cutting somewhat late than from extremely early cutting. But of necessity there will be early-cut hay in some measure stored in the barns. In this case it should be fed in connection with the latter instead of making of it an entire ration.—Z. A. Gilbert.

THE

6 Per Ct. Gold Bonds

OF THE

TOPEKA, SALINA AND WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$160,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $400,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $830 00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, five shares of stock, par value $100 each, and a $1,000 bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co. of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national Bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to 191 WEST TENTH STREET, NEW YORK, August 11, 1880.

MESSRS. SEABURY & JOHNSON:

Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER an exceptionally cleanly plaster to use, and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so, you may use my name to that effect.

Very truly yours,

H. H. KANE, A. M., M. D.

The genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the center. Price 25 cents.
